Local Fire, Police, EMS and hospital agencies will be participating in a hazardous material exercise on Wednesday, January 9, 2013. Included in the exercise is the Michigan National Guard Civil Support Team that is headquartered in Battle Creek, Michigan. This is the first exercise that this National Guard Unit has participated in the local area. This team specializes in hazardous material and weapons of mass destruction operations and support. It will be an excellent opportunity for County-wide first responders to be able to interact and observe this highly specialized unit, in action.

The exercise location will be Power Station #4 at the North terminus of Powder Mill Road in the City of Marquette. Any and all news agencies are welcome to cover this somewhat unique training event. Limited parking space will be available; please contact Chief Belt at the City of Marquette Fire Department in order that we can plan for your parking and observation.
