

PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT

For Immediate Release:

June 11, 2014

For More Information:

City of Marquette Arts and Culture Center/ 228-0472

BECKY SAVES THE BEES PERFORMANCE

On Friday, June 20, as many as 100 Marquette area youth will participate in Becky Saves the Bees, an original children's play by E.A.R.T.H. Angels. This free performance will be located in the band shell at Presque Isle in Marquette, Mich.

E.A.R.T.H. Angels is a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization using aerial performance art to raise awareness of environmental issues. Becky Saves the Bees will teach participants and audiences the global importance of pollinators and the epidemic Colony Collapse Disorder or CCD. The production will include singing, dancing, EcoSuperheros, aerial bees and butterflies.

Audience participation is encouraged. Children dressed as pollinators will be invited on stage to be a part of the performance. For additional information, contact the City of Marquette Arts and Culture Center by calling 906-228-0472 or e-mailing arts-culture@mqctcy.org.