MARQUETTE FIRE CHIEF TOM BELT ANNOUNCES RETIREMENT

City of Marquette Fire Chief Tom Belt has announced plans to retire at the end of this year. He has 41 years in the fire service; the last 21 years as the Chief of the City of Marquette Fire Department.

“In the course of a long and fulfilling career, it has been an honor to have served Marquette’s residents,” Belt said. “I have been privileged to have worked with highly dedicated Commissioners, City Managers, Department Heads and Staff. I am particularly grateful for the distinction of having served with such a fine group of Firefighters both past and present. City residents can be justifiably proud of their Fire Department.”

The Marquette Fire Department’s Fire Inspector, Ian Davis, has been recommended to the City Manager to serve as Chief Belt’s successor.
